

FRANKSTON'S STREET ART FESTIVAL IS BACK!

Big Picture Fest is set to transform Frankston's city with an explosion of colour and art created by eleven of Australia and the world's most renowned street artists. From 18 to 24 March, immerse yourself in a variety of experiences including live street art painting by eight artists, projection artworks, small scenes from a miniaturist artist, and guided street art walking tours. Cap it off with some beats and delicious food at the city's laneway takeover, The Block Party.

MINIATURIST LIZ SONTAG AKA TINKY

We are so excited to feature the work of one of Melbourne's best miniaturist artists, Tinky, at this year's festival. Tinky gathers vintage objects and assembles them with figurines and word play to create humorous dioramas. Miniature construction workers might gather to fix a broken egg shell, or emergency workers may tend to the victim of a giant cigarette butt. It has been said that Tinky's miniature dioramas add a sense of surprise and wonder to the streets, with unlikely installations on a pipe or window sill, in a gutter, or a hole-in-the-wall.

You can view two of Tinky's artworks at the Frankston library and at Cube Gallery, or hunt the laneways and streets for 8 more works throughout the week of the festival!
